Three principles on How to Study the End-Times	i. Don't be overwhelmed by the amount of information Much has been shared last week. Be patient in your study of the End-Times. It's a journey! Set a long-term goal both individually and in your respective fellowship groups to seek understanding and clarity, spurring one another on as we see the Day approaching (Heb. 10:24-25). How to Start - tips on studying the topic of End-Times: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Read Matthew 24-25, Mark 13, Luke 21. 2. Read and study the pivotal passages that talks about End-Times (refer to the print out on the 150 chapters on End-Times). 3. Last but not least, take time to read the entire bible. Be familiarized with the bible - it will help you see the big picture of God and what's on His heart. ii. The Purpose of the Study In your study of the End-Times, remember that it is not to acquire more knowledge or information, leading to just head knowledge. Always come to a conclusion, develop a conviction and respond to God. In this way, we keep our heart sensitive to God and grow in His ways. iii. Realize that you'll take time to develop understanding & clarity Jeremiah 23:20 tells us that ".. in the latter days you will understand it perfectly. As you set your heart and take time to study God's word, in prayer and fasting, may you receive greater understanding and conviction and may He birthed forth greater revelation (Dan. 10:12-14) Our heart and prayer for each of you is NOT that you gather more knowledge or that we become experts on End Times; we pray that you will capture the heart of God behind the global transition and see the beauty of Jesus - our Bridegroom, King and Judge who is coming. May we be enlightened to see what He is looking for in His Bride, as we press in to prepare and become the Bride that will partner Him in the days ahead.
